Artemis metal bead curtain is made of various hollow metal balls with antique finish or polish finish. Its hollow ball design not only reduces the overall weight of the curtain, but also features not easy to fade, thus creating an outstanding flexible style interior environment. If you use metal bead curtains to decorate your ceiling, it creates a sparkling cascade effect under the light. In addition, it can be also used to divide specific spaces, such as restaurants, hotels, offices or homes. It also provide plenty of air and light for enclosed space without giving the feeling of being enclosed while dividing the space.

The flowing lines work with metal luster to present advanced art style.
